E. H. Roberts in Morgan's Place.
Daniel N. Morgan, Treasurer of the United States, has transferred his office to Eilis H. Roberts of New York, the new Treasurer. The transfer of the office to him involves a count of all the money, and securities in the vaults of the treasury, aggregating about $700,000,000. This is an enormous undertaking, and will em-ploy about 100 persons, including expert counters and their assistants, continuously for about three months. Most of this time will be taken in counting the vast stores of silver. It is estimated that the paper money can be counted in about two weeks' time, and that it will take nearly two months and a half to count the silver. Mr. Morgan's bondsmen will not be relieved until the count is conclud-ed, and all the moneys and bonds in his charge have been fully accounted for. The bond of the United States Treasurer is $150,000, and that official is personally responsible for the safe keeping of all the funds it his charge. The committee ap-pointed by Secretary Gage to make the examination is composed of Daskam, chief of the public moneys division, rep-resenting the Secretary of the Trensury; Huntington, chief of the loan division, representing Treasurer Morgan, and Edward Bushinger, cashier of a national bank at Utica, N. Y., representing Rob-

First Counterfeit New $5 Filver Certificate Appears.
The first counterfeit new $5 silver ser

tificate has been discovered in Chicago Chief of Secret Service Hagen says it is a very dangerous counterfeit. It is made by the lithographic process, and consists of pictures of the front and back of the genuine notes, being carefully pasted together. The paper is Japanese, thinner than the legal note. Between the pieces silk fiber has been distributed. The note silk fiber has been distributed. The note is of a series of 1806 and bears check letter B; plate No. 4 do be found in the lower part of the large V at the lower right-hand corner face of the note); J. Fount Tillman, register; D. N. Morgan, treasurer; No. 376,670; small carmine scal. Much of the work on the note is blurred and indistinct; especially is this true of the face of the figure representing 'America," and the imprint of the bureau of engraving and printing. The seal is much darker red than the genuine and badly blurred. The numbering is too large badly blurred. The numbering is too large and the dark outlines of the original num-bers can be faintly discerned beneath those stamped on the counterfeit. The back of the note has a dull, faded ap-pearance. The green lak is a lighter shade than that used on the genuine. The portraits of "Grant" and "Sheri-dan" are flat, do not stand out in relief as in the genuine. The note has the ap-pearance of having been circulated, owing in a degree to the soft, fibrous character of the paper.

A tornado struck the northern portion of Rich Hill. Mo., Thursday night. The damage will amount to thousands of dollars. One set of kilns and one set of furnaces of the Cherokee-Lanyon Smelter Company were blown down, caught fire and were totally consumed. The blacksmith shops and other buildings at the plant were blown away. The Rich Hill canning factory was wrecked. The brick block of the M. S. Cowles Mercantile Company was unroofed and the water poured in, greatly damaging the stock. The Buckeridge block, brick, was unroofed, and the buildings occupied by the Daily Review badly damaged. The city hall and the Wiseman brick block were unroofed. The Klumpp block was damaged and the amphithenter bouse, horse stalls, sheds and floral hall, together with agricultural halls and other buildings at the fair grounds, were completely demolished The streets are blocked with trees, fences and outbuildings, signs and plate glass. The Christian and Episcopal churches were wrecked. The houndhouse of the Memphis road is a total wreck and freight cars were blown from the tracks in the Pacific and Memphis yards. While the wind has been destructive to trees, crops and buildings in some sections, the rain has greatly benefited some crops. Around Cairo, Ill., fully five inches of rain has fallen within the last week, breaking the drought and saving corn and other crops. Reports from nearly every section of fallen within the last week, breaking the drought and saving corn and other crops. Reports from nearly every section of southern Illinois indicate that while the yield of wheat is below the average, the quality is unusually good. St. Joseph, Mo., suffered especially from the wind. Big trees were uprooted, and small buildings crushed. The other points throughout the State where the storm was especially severe were Moberly, Alexandria, Fayette, Trenton and California. Several lives were lost through lightning. Mrs. Ruben Rickabaugh, wife of a farmer, was instantly killed while sitting at the window of her house, two miles from Albany. Albert Rouster, a farm hand living near St. Charles, Mo., also suffered death in the same way, while a number of farmers in both Illinois and Missouri had barns and crops burned by the lightning. barns and crops burned by the lightning. Thrilling Experience of Passengers on the City of Rome.

There was an exciting battle with fire on the Anchor liner City of Rome, which came into New York Sunday evening. It was a struggle in which a resolute and self-passessed captain and a well-drilled crew showed to great advantage, and the 20th passengers who are safe from the crew showed to great advantage, and the 206 passengers who are safe from the dire peril of flame and wave heartily extoi the brave work of the hardy mariners. The fire appeared on board when the vessel was nearing the end of her journey from Glasgow, and for five toilsome hours the crew fought it manfully, while throughout that thrilling period the passengers stood in excited groups about the boats, which had been swung out ready for lowering. for lowering.

Women in the Dungson.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat has this from Havana: "At Below Collan, in Matanzas province, the insurgents released twenty-three prisoners from jail last week, five of whom had been held without charges, as far as they knew, for three years. After getting these men and women out the insurgents were about to burn the jail, a small structure, when the prisoners begged them not to until they had searched the place, as they felt sure that more prisoners were still in it. The Cuuntil the building was in ruins did they discover a secret dungeon underneath. There, in a small cell, hardly large enough for them to turn about in, were four men. In a second cell were three women. The women were almost insane, and it was some time before they could tell their stories. One had been a belle of the city and had been imprisoned because she resisted advances of the colonel commanding the troops there. The other two were confined for having relatives in the Cuban army but the reason for imprisoning them army, but the reason for imprisoning them in this horrible hole was not ascertained. They were fed only once a day, and as no light entered the place, their existence was almost intolerable. They had been in there six months, but all seemed mere wrecks when taken out, and could not bear the sunlight. The men were not in any better condition, and two of them have since died."

Cornell proudly claims the title of queer of the rowing world. Her champion crew overwhelmingly defeated Yale and Harvard Friday afternoon at Poughkeepsie. Gone are the claims for glory of the English stroke, it would seem, for Mr. Lehmann's crew from Harvard, its avowed exponents, fluished, exhausted and balf dead, lengths behind Yale. And Yale's crew rowed a plucky race, but was never in it with Cornell. Cornell's time 20 min. in it with Cornell. The Garrison and Jones families are among the most prominent planters in the section of Texas. They own adjoining plantations and have been on the best of social relations for many years. Wind and Lightning Ends Lives, but the best of social relations for many years. Augustus Garrison was a married man and had a daughter 10 years old named Lois. The Jones brothers were single. Frank Jones for a year or more had been very partial in his attentions to Garrison's daughter. Recently the girl made serious charges against him. The matter became a neighborhood scandal in Pleasant Valley and Garrison swore he Just us the preacher had taken his text after prayer and the singing of a hymn. Just as the preacher had taken his text after prayer and the singing of a hymn, Garrison, who had a seat near the door, stepped to the doorway, it is believed, to get some fresh air, as the atmosphere in the building was oppressive. He had no more than reached the doorway when the congregation was startled by a fusilade of pistol shots. Nearly a dozen were fired in about as many seconds' time. When the firing ceased Augustus Garrison and Frank Jones were lying dead in front of the church steps, and Thomas Jones was stretched on the lawn near by, one hand clasped on his right thigh, and in his left he had a pistol. His statement of the shooting was brief and in substance that he and his brother Frank were approaching the church door and were within ten feet of it when Garrison appeared and instantly drew his pistol. Frank Jones was shot three times, once in the region of the heart, once in the right side, and once in the head. Garrison received but one bullet, and that pierced his heart. port, but Fali to Hold It.

Advices received from Santiago province give further details of the fighting during lest week around Gibara and Banes, betwen insurgents and Spanish forces. The advices state that the insurgents under Gen. Calixto Garcia and Col. Torres, numbering between 5,000 and 6,000 well-armed and equipped men, attacked both of the seaports simultaneously, but met with a stubborn resistance from the Spaniards, who had been advised of their coming, and were prepared to resist attacks. The demonstration against Banes, which is less than ten leagues distant from Gibara, on the north const, was merely a feint by the rebels to divert attention and draw the Spanish forces from Gibara, which was Spanish forces from Gibara, which was the point really to be attacked, and which they knew had been strongly fortified and garrisoned. The ruse was partially suc-cessful, and Garcia, with his forces, entered Gibara. His success, however, was only of short duration, as he was subse-quently driven out after a hot fight, during which many were killed and wounded on both sides. Gen. Gomez has planned his summer campaign and put it in opera-tion. Already columns of thousands of well-armed men, under efficient leaders, have been distributed throughout Matanzas, Havana and other provinces.
